Day of decision

24 candidates, three measures face voters

Voters will participate in Livermore and Pleasanton city elections and the Murray School District today.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Results may be known as quickly as an hour or two after the polls close.

In Livermore, where Councilmen Don Miller and Archer Futch are retiring, two council seats will be open and eight candidates are contesting for them.

The Livermore candidates are Lawrence Livermore Laboratory physicist Glen Dahlbacka, real estate salesman Richard Buckley, insurance salesman Wolfgang Klamp, hearing aid specialist LaVerne Cave, optometrist Marshall Kamena, PG&E representative Richard Wright, Oakland fire service supervisor Richard Gower and Livermore Public Works Department engineering technician Robert Weissel.

Also on the Livermore ballot will be City Clerk Dorothy Hock and City Treasurer Fred Noyes in unopposed bids for re-election.

Livermore voters face two ballot measures, one of which could prove to be a bellwether for the rest of the valley.

Measure "A" is a 25 cent tax override which would hire more police and firefighting personnel and equipment. Although the mood of taxpayers across the nation is fiscal conservatism now, it is not clear how taxpayers feel about increasing taxes for bread - and - butter things like fire and police protection and the Livermore vote today may give a clue about this mood.

Pleasanton residents, who have seen a dispute over creation of a Public Safety Director and a concommitant discussion of allegedly understaffed fire and police departments, will look at the Livermore balloting particularly carefully.

Pleasanton also is considering a bond issue for park improvements and may get encouragement from the Livermore result, if it is positive.

Livermore voters also will contemplate Measure "B" which would repeal a city ordinance banning front yard storage of campers. The ordinance is due to go into effect in July.

Pleasanton's election features seven candidates running for three city council seats. Lawrence Livermore Laboratory administrator William Herlihy is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Councilman Roger McLain was appointed to the council nine months ago, replacing Assemblyman Floyd Mori, and is not eligible to use the "incumbent" ballot designation. McLain is a mechanical engineering design associate at LLL.

Other candidates are insurance salesman Robert Attebery, book writer - editor Jim Jordan, Pacific Telephone manager Ken Mercer, Sears & Roebuck controller Frank Brandes, and downtown businessman Gene Finch.

City Treasurer John Wipfli is unopposed for re-election.

In the Murray School District, voters will choose one board trustee from among six candidates and decide the fate of a $1 million bond issue.

The six candidates are Dawn Rutter, Dr. Harry Overline, Art Laursen, Linda Jeffery, Eugene Hinton and Harrietta Dahlin.

If voters approve the bond issue, $600,000 of the amount would go to finance the second half of the intermediate school planned for the Dolan site in the Silvergate area of Dublin.

There are 7,752 voters in the Murray District. Approximately 50 per cent of them voted in the district's last election contest. Nine of Murray's 14 precincts are in Pleasanton and it is thought that the city council race may help voter turnout in those precincts.

PLeasanton has 12,132 registered voters, but the turnout in the last city election was approximately 3,600, or not much more than 25 per cent of the voters who were registered then.

Livermore's turnout was approximately 50 per cent in the last election, but voter registration has dropped nearly 3,000 as the voter rolls were purged after the 1974 state elections.

Response is mixed on Mori tax plan

Livermore likes Assemblyman Floyd Mori's proposal to split regional shopping center sales tax revenues with neighboring cities, but Pleasanton is not so sure.

Mori's proposed bill, reported in the The Times Sunday, would require cities to split new sales tax revenues from regional centers on a 50 - 50 basis with all other cities in their counties.

In Alameda County, it would mean that Hayward and Oakland would take future increases in sales tax revenues from their regional centers and put them in a pot for all other cities in the county to share.

That was great news to Livermore Finance Director George Nolan, who said today there is a black-white demarcation between "the haves and have-nots" on this question. Clearly Hayward, San Leandro and Oakland are the haves and Livermore is a have-not.

Pleasanton is a have-not, too, but in five years or so the city expects to have its own regional center with three major department stores and that should put it in the "have" category.

Pleasanton's Finance Director, Jim Walker, is aware of that. He likes Mori's bill if Pleasanton remains devoid of a center, and he doesn't like it if the center is built.

Mori, who served two years on the Pleasanton City Council, was asked yesterday if he thought about what the bill would do to Pleasanton's future revenues before he proposed it.

"It would not be a loss to Pleasanton," said Mori. "It would be less of a gain at the expense of others. At the present time, others gain at Pleasanton's expense. Looking at the future, there is no reason we should gain and others lose. We're just looking at the fairness in the sales tax situation."

The Times asked Walker whether Mori's bill would affect the arrangement Pleasanton has with the regional shopping center developer over financing of the Stoneridge overpass. The city is committed to using up to half of the regional center's sales tax revenue to pay for the overpass. If it isn't paid off within 13 years after construction, the developer pays off the remainder.

The mathematics of it was done several years ago and the developer was assured then that he would not have to pay anything, but if Mori's bill passes, the projected sales tax revenues will be much different. The developer will wind up paying for part of it, though Walker was not certain of the amount.

The effect of Mori's bill on Pleasanton would be softened slightly by the share Pleasanton would receive out of the county-wide pot, said Walker. But since Mori's formula will be based on increases over a base year, probably 1976, the pot won't be very big, said Walker.

Only a new center would raise the total stakes considerably and Pleasanton is the only city in Alameda County which has a new center planned, as far as Walker knows.

Nolan in Livermore thinks Mori's bill "is a marvelous idea. It's an attempt to correct the situation now where cities fall into haves and have-not's. The accident of the location of a regional shopping center makes a difference about which category you fall into."

The state sales tax law was established prior to the flowering of regional shopping centers, said Nolan. Since then, people have become accustomed to taking their sales tax dollars across city boundaries, he said.

Mori discusses Lab labor woes

LIVERMORE — It may take a constitutional amendment to solve some of the employe relations problems at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, Assemblyman Floyd Mori (D - Pleasanton) said at a press conference Frday.

Mori has been looking into employe relations at the lab as a member of the Assembly Labor Relations Committee. He held a special subcommittee meeting in Livermore on Oct. 22 to hear grievances.

Mori concluded Friday, "The legislature has little authority to compel the lab administration to take a fresh look and perhaps change its policies."

He said he has received numerous complaints from lab employes about personnel problems at the lab.

Mori said his administrative aide, Alton Jelks, deals with a lab problem almost every day. Jelks has been meeting weekly Assistant Associate Director of Human Relations and Resources and Laboratory Relations Jack Kahn.

Mori said certain legislative limitations prohibit lawmakers from forcing a cvhange in lab policies.

He said two approaches are currently being considered:

A joint legislative resolution may be sent to the University of California Board of Regent asking the Regents to "respond to the problems and report back to the legislature."

The Board of Regents is the titular head of the laboratory. It operates the lab for the Atomic Energy Commission, and is funded largely by the Energy Research and Development Administration.

Passage of a constitutional amendment to clarify the relationship of non - professional employes to the University of California.

Mori explained the Regents are outside the jurisdiction of the legislation and a consitutional amendment is required to force action upon them.

"The problem has been," said Mori, "that the Regents don't want to do anything about problems at the lab."

He said the constitutional amendment was a long - term approach to the situation.

In the meantime, Mori said he and his staff would continue to deal on a "day - to - day" basis with LLL officials to solve individual problems.

Donlon teacher is ex-coach

No suitcases for George

(This is the 14th in a continuing series on The Classroom Teacher, featuring elementary, intermediate and high school teachers in the Murray, Pleasanton, Amador and San Ramon school districts)

George Baljevich came to Donlon School in the Murray School District in a roundabout fashion so to speak.

The trail has taken him through several hundred high school and college gymnasiums and the homes of countless prospective "blue chip" college athletes.

He can tell you alot about suitcases, too, because George has lived out of a few over the past dozen years.

If this is Elk Grove, it must be Tuesday!

After several years of coaching and a whole lot of years in recruiting and scouting, George came to the realization that teaching grade school is a whole heck of a lot better than living out of a suitcase.

Has something to do with pay and three squares a day!

If nothing else, Baljevich has to keep himself in moustache wax to keep a very luxuriant moustache in shape.

After obtaining a B.A. in history from St. Mary's in Moraga, Baljevich became one of the first males to matriculate at Holy Names College in Oakland. The flexible scheduling was exactly what he was looking for.

His initial teaching and coaching experience came during his time at Holy Names. Baljevich handled the junior varsity basketball and baseball teams at St. Elizabeth's in East Oakland.

Most of his coaching expertise was gained, though, through his association with George Powles and Bill Cox in the American Legion and Babe Ruth baseball programs. The Legion squad, bulwarked by many ghetto youngsters who later went into professional ball, won the Legion World Series in 1966 and the Ruth team was third nationally in their tournament.

All told, Baljevich was at St. Elizabeth from 1961 to 1967. From the East Oakland school he went to Cal State Hayward to work on his masters and assist head coach Herb Graw with the Pioneers' varsity cage teams.

Baljevich, incidentally, is completing his thesis for a masters degree and has chosen the subject of physical size of athletes and the effect on rules in sports. The perfect "for instance" here is the many experiments tried with the hoop at 11 feet to possibly neutralize the "big man." Baljevich has documented many experimental games and has found, generally speaking, that the basket at 11 feet only slightly hampers the very tall player while hurting the deadeye guard or forward.

After a two-year stint at Cal State Hayward, in 1968-69, Baljevich formed his own sports company — "All-Star Sports" — which covered scouting and recruiting activities for numerous colleges and pro teams, helping professional players with their contracts, scheduling of summer sports camps and dates for celebrity basketball teams (featuring pro football players such as the Raiders and McArthur Lane of Green Bay).

After years of scurrying about the map, dealing with athletes, games and suitcases (Baljevich knew about present USF basketball star Bill Cartwright when he was in the 9th grade at Elk Grove High), George decided to put a little sanity in his life and look for a nice, steady teaching job.

He was moving in this direction in 1972 when he took a social studies and science teching position at St. Louis Bertrand in Oakland.

Baljevich came to the Murray district in the summer of 1974.

Teaching positions in city schools were as scarce as a 6-10 high school kid with moves like a Jamal Wilkes.

Baljevich started at Donlon as a seventh and eighth grade teacher in the social studies and science areas in September of 1974.

He has worked with establishing an electives program at Donlon that gives the student more latitude.

He is enthused with the dedication of fellow staff members and the support of the school community, so much so that his future plans are strictly to remain a classroom teacher.

"One of the ways I can communicate best is through the system we have here and my own humor," Baljevich enthuses.

He also keeps his "hand in" sports by doing occasional scouting assignments for out-of-area colleges and working with athletes (he plans to work with the Celtics' Glen McDonald this summer) in improving their techniques.

One thing more, though. George pays his way into all games he attends.

Sorry, no freebies available.

VMH proposes rezoning for offices, medical center

The City of Pleasanton has received a proposal to rezone 57 acres of land at the northwest corner of the intersection of West Las Positas Boulevard and Santa Rita Road which, if approved, will bring Valley Memorial Hospital's proposed second medical facility one step closer to construction.

The proposed rezoning would change the land use designation of the 57-acre site from Industrial Park, Planned Unit Development to the following designations: 23 acres public and institutional, 18.3 acres multiple residential, and 15.7 acres office district.

The site is the proposed location of VMH's 400-bed hospital facility, medical offices, and multiple residential housing.

VMH acquired the land in November for $16,000 per acre.

Initially, a 150-bed medical center is planned, with capability to expand to 400 beds.

A draft environmental impact report has been prepared and is available for review at the Pleasanton Planning Department, 4333 Black Ave., Pleasanton.

The city will accept comments on the rezoning for a period of 30 days, beginning March 5.

Plans for the west valley facility are proceeding despite objections from Livermore residents who fear a phasing - out of the Livermore hospital if a second facility is built.

State and Federal regulations regarding hospital construction have also forced planning delays. Target competion date for the facility is 1980.

Chamber to learn VMH plans

PLEASANTON — A report on Valley Memorial Hospital's plans for expansion of services will be given the Chamber of Commerce in a Tuesday noon gathering at Pleasanton Hotel.

Tom Andrews, VMH administrator, has been invited to "tell us where we stand" in the confused picture of hospital expansion or relocation of the hospital center which is now located in Livermore. Plans to establish a new acute care center in Pleasanton were in the focal point of recent VMH board elections. Two of the three winners in that election have questioned the wisdom of a hospital in Pleasanton.

Andrews has been moving forward on plans for that new site on Santa Rita Road in Pleasanton, but the hospital board is reportedly a long way from an actual construction start.

A California Highway Patrol spokesman said the on-ramp was shut down for 2½ hours while the wreckage was being cleared. Truck driver Emmanuel Celaya of San Jose was not injured in the wreck. A spokesman for Anello Trucking Co. of San Jose was unable to place a monetary damage estimate on the loss.

Pleasanton trio charged in Sonora rail theft

SONORA — Two Pleasanton men have pleaded not guilty in superior court to charges of grand theft in the disappearance of approximately $7,000 of steel rails.

A 15 - year - old Pleasanton youth was also arrested in connection with the theft and referred to juvenile court.

Stephen David Larson, 22, and Brian Delano Hale, 21, both of Pleasanton, will face a jury trial on Apr. 26 on the grand theft charges. The men were arrested Oct. 21 after a stakeout team watched the suspects allegedly load 36 300-pound steel rails — about seven tons worth — onto a flatbed truck and attempt to drive back to the Bay Area to sell the rails as scrap metal for $80 a ton.

Sheriff's deputies said the trio apparently made 15 to 20 trips to a railroad bed where Allied Metals had stored the rails. After a company spokesman reported 100 rails missing, deputies set up a stakeout two miles east of Lyons Dam.

Deputies watched as suspects used a torch to cut the rails into 18-ft. lengths and spend 2½ hours loading them onto the truck. A roadblock trapped the suspects near the scene of the crime.

Larson and Hale were released on $2,000 bail each. The juvenile was released to his parents with a notice to appdar in court.

Driver hits five parked cars and a brick wall

LIVERMORE — A 48-year-old Berkeley man was arrested for suspicion of drunk driving after he allegedly hit five parked cars and a brick wall Saturday.

Police said Juan Nunez Vasquez drove into Carol Lang's car, parked on East Avenue, as three witnesses looked on. Vasquez then backed his car up, continued westbound on East Avenue for 57 feet and struck Richard Allan Johnson's parked Ford.

Undaunted, Vasquez started up again, only to strike a parked 1975 Plymouth with Conneticut plates, police said.

Vasquez then turned onto Mitra Street, hit Patricia Lann's car and dragged it 15 feet, police said. While attempting to free the two cars, Vasquez' car jumped the curb and hit a brick wall.

From there, Vasquez turned onto Norma Way where he hit Gene Alan McKinney's Chevrolet, pushing it 24 feet. He continued on Norma Way until he struck Harold Jones 1975 Pontiac.

Vasquez was booked on suspicion of drunk driving, and police are recommending a charge of hit and run be filed against Vasquez by the district attorney's office. Vasquez' 1972 Chevrolet pick-up truck sustained only moderate damage in the incidents, police said.

Two women arrested, three men surrender in burglary

DUBLIN — Sheriff's deputies arrested two women near the scene of a just-reported house burglary and discovered two antique mirrors listed as stolen and receipts with the victim's name in their possession last week.

John Banke told deputies he watched as a man pryed open a window and then led three other people into his house near Iceland on San Ramon Valley Boulevard last week.

Deputies stopped a car near the scene and arrested two young women who had two antique mirrors reportedly belonging to Banke. The search also turned up several receipts with Banke's name, deputies reported.

Three men sought in the burglary turned themselves in to Sheriff's deputies the next day. All suspects were juveniles, deputies added.

Man held for resisting arrest, battery on police

LIVERMORE — A 57-year-old Livermore man was booked on suspicion of felony battery on police officers, drunk in public and resisting arrest after a Saturday night struggle.

Howard Allen Long of 1072 Bluebell Drive was being held on tentative bail of $5,625 after the incident, police said.

According to reports, police accompanied Long's wife to her home to pick up some personal items. When officers escorted Mrs. Long into the home, Long became "very excited" and ordered everyone to leave, police said.

After a verbal confrontation, Long attempted to drive away despite police warnings he would be arrested for drunk driving. A struggle ensued in which Officer Richard Sibley received minor cuts and a torn uniform.

Long was subdued, handcuffed and booked at the police station.

Buenas Vidas youths welcome wormy gift

LIVERMORE — Buenas Vidas Youth Ranch is launched in the worm - raising business.

A bin of worms arrived there Monday, a gift from Circle O Worm Ranch in Pleasanton. The teen-aged residents of the ranch are hoping to let the creatures multiply and then, beginning next fall, "harvest" them each month for a steady income of $250 to $400 a month.

The worms are of the "red hybrid domesticated" variety that live close to the top of the soil. They'll grow in a bin and need only to be fed manure and kept damp with a shower of water once in awhile.

According to Sally Bystroff, one of the prime movers behind Buenas Vidas, the ranch is in financial straits. It's located at the long-abandoned Del Valle Sanitarium out Arroyo Road, without a source of income or money for capital improvements.

The Buenas Vidas board of directors have applied to the county and to the Office of Criminal Justice Planning for money to run the ranch, but so far have not received any grants. Meanwhile, about $15,000 has come to them through private and business, donations and fundraisers.

At present, the ranch can only serve eight youths. Plans call for an "intensive" residential program serving 18 teenagers, and a "satellite" project serving 20 more, mostly from the Valley.

A central part of the program is the system of putting the young residents to work farming and doing other jobs that will give them a job skill for the future as well as helping Buenas Vidas become self-supporting.

Wendy and John Sullivan, Circle O's national sales director and vice president, are hoping that their support of Buenas Vidas will inspire other businesses also to give the enterprise a hand.

"The Circle O symbolizes the circle of life," they explain.

"That means that if you start out giving, it comes back."

Heroin charges are dismissed

LIVERMORE — Charges were dismissed in municipal court on Monday that had involved Wilbur Heron in the death of Dorothy Hoffman. Both are residents of Livermore

Hoffman had died on Nov. 21 as a result of head wounds that could have resulted from a fall, the pathologist's report had stated. The district attorney's office then determined there was no further basis for charges against Heron.

Judge John A. Lewis dismissed the charges "in the interest of justice."

Troop 943 plans unique Tricentennial trust fund

"Boy Scout Troop 943 of Pleasanton believes in America."

As a Bicentennial project, the troop will attempt to raise $1,000 to be deposited in a trust fund at the First National Bank of Pleasanton with the stipulation that it be presented to the "Tri-Valley Tricentennial Committee" in the year 2076.

Announcement of the troop's unique project was made Thursday night at a candidates and bond issue night held at Donlon School in Pleasanton.

Troop 943, sponsored by the Donlon School Parent - Faculty Club and Warren Harding, president of the First National Bank of Pleasanton, advised that the original $1,000 would amount to approximately $1 million by the year 2076.

The troop is planning to write to various service clubs and the different news media requesting donations and advertisement. They will accept donations of cash or sellable items. All donations are tax deductible.

The boys will also set up tables in the Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore areas seeking donations from citizens who, like themselves, believe in America. Donations can also be sent to:

Troop 943 Tricentennial Fund, First National Bank, Pleasanton, Calif. 94566.

The goal is $1,000 but that is only a minimum and can be exceeded, according to Kevin Petty and John E. Bartlett of the troop. All monies collected will be deposited in a savings account until the $1,000 goal is reached at which time it will be deposited in "Troop 943 Tricentennial Fund" saving certificates.

"We were sitting at our annual planning session at Scoutmaster Bartlett's house," says Petty, "and the question of what we thought of 'Horizon Bicentennial Project' arose which is sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America. 'Horizon' is a contest to see which scout troop can come up with the most original Bicentennial project. We decided to accept the challenge."

Bartlett suggested the idea to Bobby Mortensen, our senior patrol leader. Bobby then asked for a vote from the members of the troop leaders council which is comprised of all patrol leaders and other troop officers. The idea was accepted unanimously. Bartlett then added, that if the troop were to go ahead with the project, they would have to do it themselves with Bartlett acting only in an advisory capacity.

Bartlett says he believes that scouting should be, "and in Troop 943 it is," a boy-run organization.

Petty is leader of the Leadership Corps, a group comprised of older scouts in the troop who assist the younger ones and, under the guidance of Robert Senft, assistant scoutmaster, have offered to head up the project.

"We decided to do it in a way which would utilize every boy in the troop with the leadership corps as advisors to each patrol," says Petty.

'World's Fair' at Pleasanton

Pod 2's International City a hit

PLEASANTON — They came by the dozens to try their luck at the Switzerland and Holland game booths, the spiced lentels concession beckoned and Maria Silva and Dolores Garcia made sure everyone saw their Portuguese and Mexican cook books.

The signs, decorations and aromas were those of a true World's Fair — and that's exactly what Bill Radulovich and his youngsters in Pod 2 at Pleasanton Middle School were emphasizing.

A Times reporter, fortunate to be named "Mayor" and given the "key to the city," even received copies of Maria's and Dolores' cook books and won some licorice at a game booth!

Each game booth offered prizes or tickets to those skillful enough to ring a cone or put a bean bag through an opening on a board.

Patty McCoy and Nancy Wise were the busy "owners" of a snack booth at "International City" and David Deshler even got assistant principal Dave Cook to try his luck at the ring toss.

The Portuguese cook book is the product of Maria, Gail, Patty, Sylvia and Nancy. One of the tempting recipes is for "Coscoroes" — take one egg, a "little bit" of milk and butter, some baking powder and mix well until thin and spread on a cookie sheet. The girls advise that the goodie looks "like hollow tacos" when cooked!

Other recipes are for sweet bread, brown walnut candy, and white candy walnuts.

The Mexican cook book is the work of Anna, Marcy, Norma, Carolyn and Delores.

The girls have a recipe for tortilla chips that goes like this — Take corn tortillas, salt and oil and first fry tortillas in oil for approximately one minute on each side. Then take the tortilla out of the pan with prongs. Then salt and break apart.

Check with the girls for other details!

Also included in the Mexican cook book are recipes for kidney bean salad, tacos, arroz a la Mexicana (Mexican rice), Mexican guacamole, frijoles refritos (refried beans), capirotada (bread pudding) and pineapple and cabbage salad.

Just one caution, though, don't try licorice for dessert!

Junior Grand National entry deadline is this Thursday

Deadline for entering the 1976 Junior Grand National exhibition at the San Francisco Cow Palace is March 4.

A record registration of some 2,000 youngsters and 3,000 head of cattle, sheep, swine and goats is expected at the 30th annual show April 9-13.

In urging 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America to forward their entry forms in the next two weeks, Cow Palace livestock superintendent Darrell Chapman predicted this year's junior exhibition will be one of the best ever.

The show will include a complete schedule of classes for market steers, swine and sheep as well as for dairy cattle, goats, breeding heifers and ewes.

The Cow Palace is also accepting applications for the Junior Grand National Horse Show, which follows the livestock exposition. Deadline is March 26 for filing applications.

Further information is available from the Cow Palace at P.O. Box 34206, San Francisco 94134, or by calling 584-2480.

Early exit school exam applications available

Information and application forms for the second California High School Proficiency Examination may be picked up at valley high schools until March 5.

The test will be given to 16 and 17-year olds applying on March 27 at some 100 test sites throughout the state. Test for valley students will be given on the 27th at Amador Valley High School, site of the first test.

Students must be 16 or 17 and return the application fee of $10 in order to be eligible to take the exam. Those passing the approximately four-hour exam will receive a Certificate of Proficiency, which is legally equivalent to a high school diploma. They may leave school immediately upon the signature of a parent.

Some 45 per cent of the 12,150 taking the test statewide in mid-December passed. Less than two dozen valley students passed the test at Amador.

State education officialsanticate between 12,000 and 15,000 taking the test statewide on March 27.

Vintage Hills name favored

PLEASANTON — "Vintage Hills Park" is the overwhelming choice among Vintage Hills residents to name a park in the neighborhood according to a postcard survey conducted by the Vintage Hills Homeowners Association.

The residents picked the Vintage Hills name by a 20 to 1 ratio over other names such as "Vintner Park" and "Bernard Gerton Park". The park and recreation commission, charged with recommending three nominations for the park name to the city council, submitted those three names

The suggestion for "Bernard Gerton Park" came from park and recreation commissioner Ken Mercer who thought it would be an appropriate memorial for the city's late mayor.

Starla Kryder wins Lions speech contest

DUBLIN — Starla Kryder, a senior at Dublin High Schol, is the winner of the Dublin - San Ramon Lions Club student speakers contest.

Topic for the 39th annual contest sponsored by Lions Clubs throughout the state is "Citizens Rights versus Criminal Rights."

Miss Kryder was adjudged the winner at the contest held at the Dublin Corral last week. She will now compete in the zone contest scheduled for Wednesday, March 17 at the Dublin High School Little Theatre.

The zone contest includes club winners from throughout the valley and Walnut Creek.

Winner of the zone contest goes on to the regional, which is followed by the district contest in early May.

Winner of the Multiple District Four student speakers contest will receive a $3,600 college scholarship.

Bo Isaeff was chairman of the Dublin - San Ramon Lions Club student speakers contest.

Foothill group to D.C.

PLEASANTON — Nine Foothill High School students will be going to Washington, D.C., in April to take part in the Closeup program.

The students will not only be able to see some of the Bicentennial festivites but also have a chance to get an in-person view of the inner workings of government.

Students going from Foothill are David Albert, Chris Echavia, and Linnae Himsl, who all attended last year, and "newcomers" Rich Gielow, Laura Glaiser, Kim Kyle, Mark Schellman, Lee Stichka and advisor Jim Eaton. The fellowship winner is Mike Bumanlag.

Housing authority to expand

PLEASANTON — The housing authority will be expanded from five to seven commissioners, the city council decided .

The vote was 4-1, with Joyce LeClaire dissenting. The council needs to seat two housing authority tenants on the board and the majority felt it would be best to add the two seats.

LeClaire saw no need to expand the board. She thought that a tenant should be appointed to the current vacancy created by Elizabeth Hall's retirement. Another seat could be vacated by removing one of the incumbent commissioners. She said that one of the commissioners lives outside the city and she was under the impression that is illegal.

The Times learned that Housing Authority Chairman William Thompson lives on Foothill Road outside the city limits.

Thompson told The Times yesterday that a new state law which became effective the first of the year makes only "resident electors" (voters in the city) eligible to serve on the commission. He discussed the legal change last fall with housing authority attorney William Struthers who reportedly told him that there is a "gray area" in the law when it comes to commissioners appointed before the legal change.

Thompson said he talked it over with other commissioners and they agreed he should continue to serve.

At the council meeting Monday, LeClaire felt that an expanded board would present a 5-2 division of perspective between tenants and the rest of the community. She prefers a 3-2 division.

Councilman Roger McLain said that the tenants are relatively transient and there may be greater turnover in those two seats. For that reason, quorums could be harder to come by and a seven-member panel would help prevent that situation, said McLain.

Joanne Kienzle

Granada senior wins award

LIVERMORE — Joanne Kienzle, a Granada High senior, has won the $1,000 second-place Bay Area Engineer's Week scholarship.

Joanne, 18, is the daughter of Bonnie and Henry Kienzle of 450 Brighton Way. She was accompanied by her counselor, Florence Sheppard, to the dinner at Bimbo's in San Francisco where she got the scholarship.

Joanne was chosen from a field of 115 students in eight Bay Area counties. The first-place scholarship of $1,500 went to Martin R. Boles of Burlingame, a student at Mills High School.

Joanne was the only girl in the field of 11 finalists. She took home a plaque, a loving cup and a calculator as well as the big scholarship.

Joanne has been active in California Junior Statesmen, sings with the A Cappella Choir at Granada, tutors math and helps out as a teachers' aide.

Although her father is a chemical engineer, her own interest in engineering was not aroused until she went on a field trip during sophomore year to UC's College of Engineering.

She hopes to study biomedical engineering at Northwestern.

Position paper

LLL lab labeled a 'national resource'

LIVERMORE — Lawrence Livermore Laboratory's Society of Professional Scientists and Engineers yesterday overwhelmingly endorsed a position paper on LLL as a national resource and the need for competent management.

The vote, taken at SPSE's noon - time meeting, was 93 to 7 in favor of supporting the paper. Except for some "softening of words," the paper is essentially the same one approved by the SPSE Executive Committee on Feb. 2.

The paper explains SPSE's view of the lab as a national resource: "a large natignal investment in physical facilities, technical capabilities, and highly trained human resources."

It states SPSE's perception that this resource may be lost unless steps are taken soon to prevent it.

The paper says a "major overhaul of LLL management structure is needed," and singles out four specific problems:

√ LLL management is top -heavy with high salaried, scientifically under qualified and tenured managers.

√ Top management is supported and isolated by an ever-expanding bureaucratic structure.

√ Personalities influence technical decisions.

√ The energy of staff is increasingly spent in responding to unenlightened personnel practices and in supporting the bureaucracy.

SPSE offers a list of proposals to "revitalize" LLL, including:

√ Overhaul and simplification of LLL management.

√ Scientific management from director to group leader be held only for limited terms, and return to the ranks periodically to "refresh their competence."

√ Elimination of salary differentials between managers and working scientists.

√ Establishment of a Professional Senate under the independent control of the professional employes.

√ Basic research and creativity among staff members be encouraged.

√ Reevaluation and revision of personnel policies.

√ Increased interaction with the academic community through professional exchange programs and sharing of unique lab facilities.

SPSE president Suzanne Lake said the executive board will meet Monday to direct distribution of the paper.

Lions club sponsors scenic flights

Have you ever yearned to fly in the wild blue yonder over the Livermore-Amador Valley? If so, you'll have your chance the weekend of March 6 and 7.

On Saturday and Sunday, the Livermore Lions Club and Clifornia Air Commuter will co-sponsor 16 20-minute scenic flights over the Livermore, Pleasanton and Mt. Diablo areas. The flights will leave from the Livermore Municipal Airport at 12:30 p.m., 1 p.m., 1:30 p.m., and 2 p.m. on both days.

Tickets for the scenic flights are $5 with all proceeds going to the Lions principle charity program, sight conservation.

Tickets may be purchased in Livermore only at Granada High School through Terry Marsh, 443-5000; Morris Plan Company of California, 2282 Fourth St., Mike Schrader, 443-0500, and Valley Bank, 2287 Second St., Terry Sidwell, 443-1212. Tickets will not be available at the airport.

If the weekend flights are cancelled because of inclement weather, they will be rescheduled for Saturday and Sunday on the following weekend.

California Air, which serves the Livermore community seven days a week with regularly scheduled flights to San Francisco, San Jose, Palo Alto, Novato, Santa Rosa, Clearlake, Ukiah and Fort Bragg, is donating the pilots, aircraft and fuel to the Lions for the flights.

"We felt this was a way to demonstrate that we wished to be more involved in the communities we serve by making a genuine contribution to the City of Livermore," said Cal Air President Richard Duste, whose idea it was to have the charity flights.

Livermore school offers legal course

LIVERMORE — Valley teachers are invited to learn more about the American legal and criminal system through a UCLA extension course offered at Mendenhall Intermediate School.

The cost is $15 non-credit, $25 credit.

The course is designed to "provide K-12 teachers, administrators and parents with an in-depth study of legal concepts of authority, justice, privacy, responsibility, participation, diversity, property and freedom. The spring, 1976 workshop will concentrate on the study of freedom and diversity."

The series promises a variety of teaching methods such as role-playing, discussion techniques, simulations and group panels. Emphasis will be on useful teaching strategies.

On the staff are Susan Canfield, elementary teacher at Rancho Las Positas school in Livermore; Sharon Huesby, Mendenhall Intermediate teacher; Ron Nicola, Livermore High social science teacher, and coordinator Lee Thompson.

The first 30 participants will receive free teacher materials, including two casebooks, two sets of lesson plans and two sets of curriclum booklets, one on Freedom, the other on Diversity. Additional information is available from Lee Thompson and Linda Fagundes at Livermore's Education Center, 447-9500.

Sources of Energy—No. 4 of a series

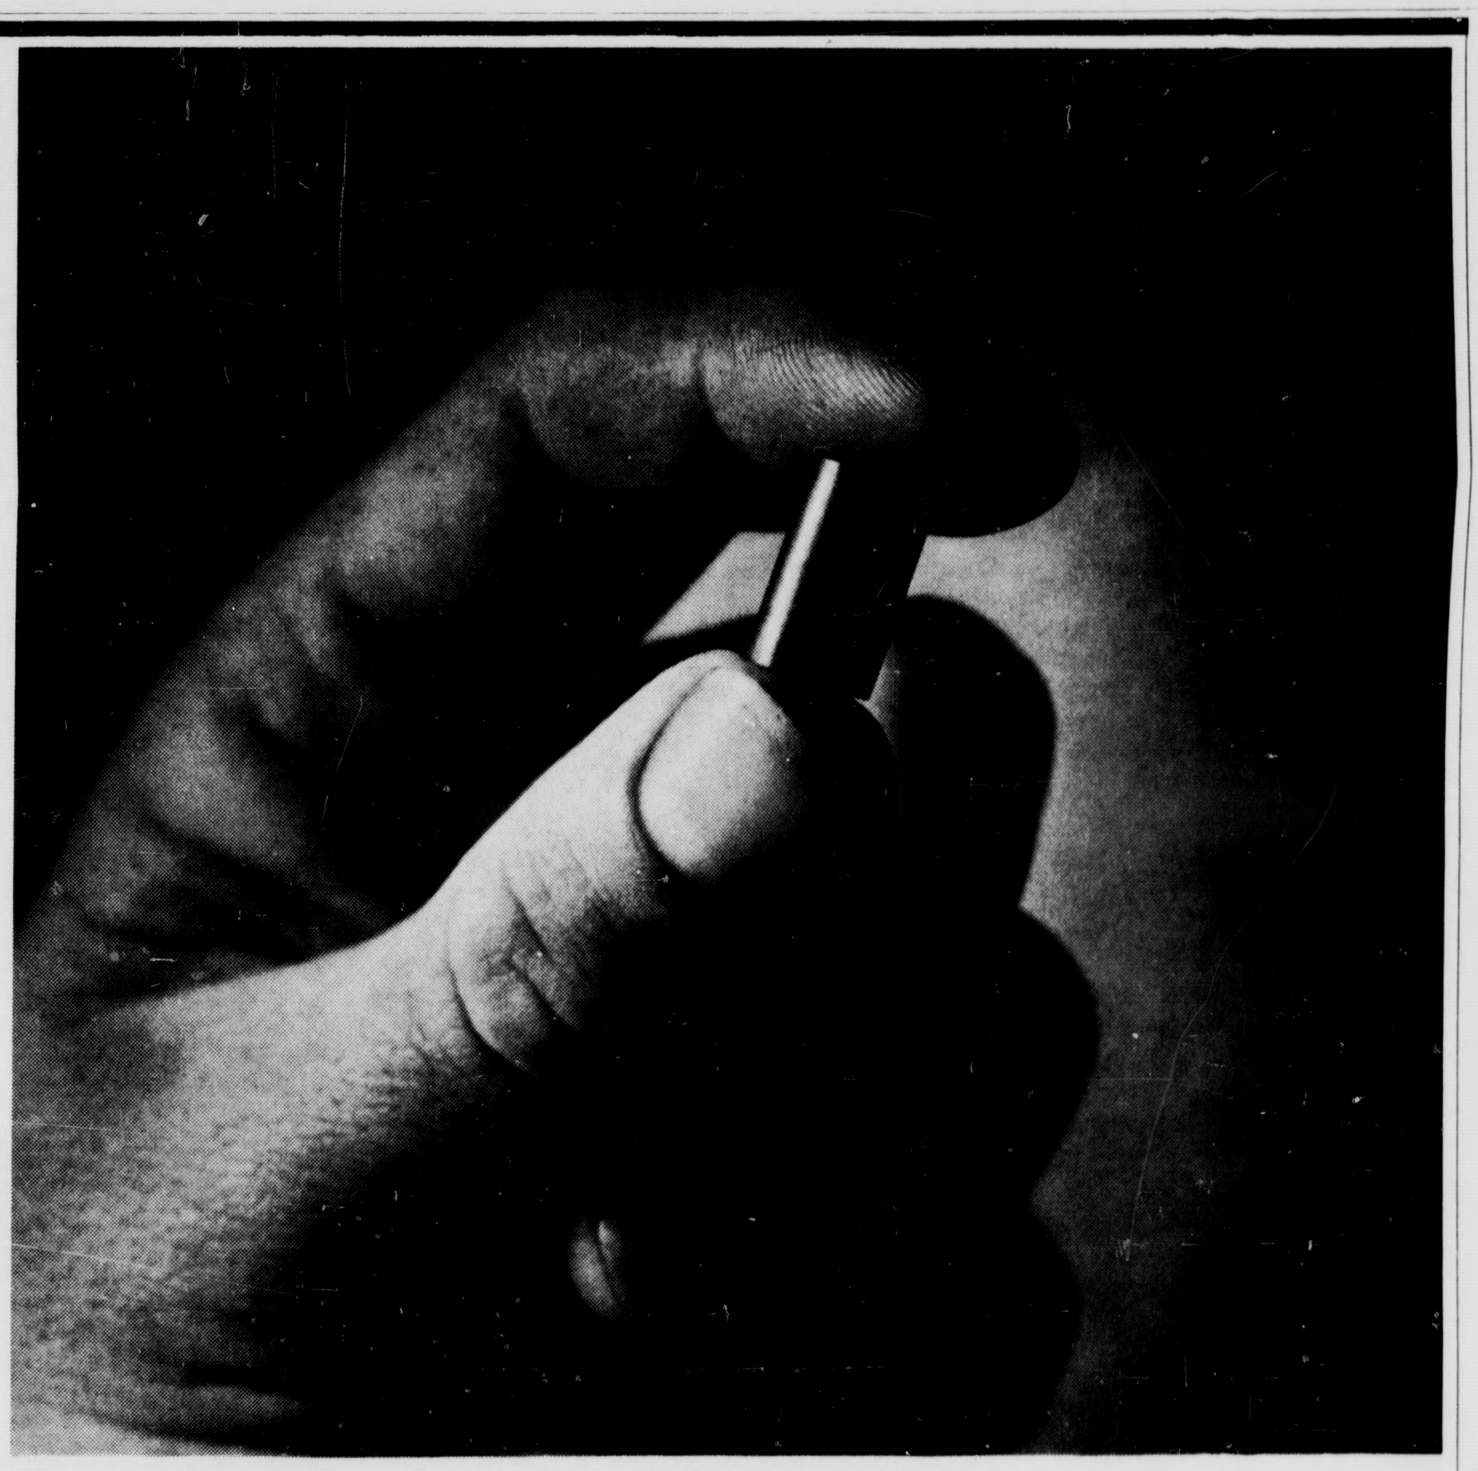
If all our fuel looked like this, electricity would be cheaper.

PG&E was one of the nation's first utilities to develop the peaceful use of the atom into a heat source for the generation of electricity. We participated in the first commercial nuclear power plant, Vallecitos in Alameda County, in 1957, and our pioneering plant at Humbolt Bay brought 65,000 kilowatts on line in 1963.

How the atom does it

In the simplest terms, here's how a nuclear power plant works. Nuclear fuel, enriched uranium dioxide in pellet form, constitutes the core of what is called the reactor. When the uranium atoms fission (split), heat is given off. This heat boils water, producing steam which drives a turbine generator, thus producing electricity. The electricity produced in a nuclear plant is just the same as other electricity. Only the fuel used to generate it is different.

Nuclear power plants are expensive to build, but economical to operate. They can produce electricity at about 40% less cost than new oil-fired plants. When our two nuclear units at Diablo Canyon go into operation, they will save our having to buy as much as 24 million barrels of expensive imported oil a year.



The energy in a nuclear power plant fuel pellet this size equals the energy in 150 gallons of oil.

Other sources of energy

Nuclear power is but one of 5 kinds of natural energy PG&E uses to produce electricity. Another is geothermal steam at The Geysers. It is relatively inexpensive, but even by optimistic estimates, it would supply only about 10% of our needs by 1985.

A third is water power. PG&E has one of the nation's most extensive hydroelectric systems, but nearly all economic and acceptable water power sites have been developed over the years. That's why natural gas and oil—our 4th and 5th sources—had to become more prominent in our energy mix.

Unfortunately, the costs of these fossil fuels have been skyrocketing. In just 5 years, the prices for gas have more than doubled and the cost per barrel of low-sulfur fuel oil has quintupled, accounting for most of our rate increases.

Coal one day may be our sixth source of primary energy. We are in the process of acquiring reserves in Utah.

Research in solar electricity shows promise, but its use as a major source is, at best, many years away. Our industry's research in fusion, tidal and wind power some day may make them practical for generating electricity, but they simply are not available for planning today.

Facing the problem together

The demand for electricity continues to grow, partly because population itself continues to grow. The problem of meeting this growing demand is urgent.

For our part, we will continue our urgent efforts to develop all available sources, and to find new ways to use energy more efficiently, to keep you provided with adequate energy and reliable service at the lowest possible cost. For your part, the effective way to help control the supply and the spiraling cost of energy, is to use less of it. We encourage you to do so because the energy you use is too precious ...and too costly...to waste.

Save energy-you'll save money, too.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

A good match-point player would go down at three notrump in an effort to score overtricks. He would know that suits break 3-2 68 per cent of the time and that the odds were that West had led away from a diamond honor.

So he would play a low diamond from dummy. East would take his queen and lead back a club. South would rise with the ace and go after hearts. West would show out on the second heart lead whereupon South would cash three hearts and two spades, finesse against West's king of diamonds, get out for down one and a fair match-point score since lots of other players would be going down.

A rubber-bridge player would study the dummy for a while. If an optimist he might also duck that first diamond, but if he were a realist he would say that a game in the hand is a nice thing to have. Then he would rise with dummy's ace of diamonds, lead a low heart and wind up with two spades, five hearts, two minor-suit aces and game and rubber.

Ask the Jacobys

A Nebraska reader wants to know what we think of the premature save.

He is referring to a bid such as five clubs after partner has overcalled a one-heart opening bid with two clubs and third hand has jumped to three hearts. The idea is that fourth hand knows the opponents are going to make four hearts and hopes to push them to five.

The bid is fine when it works and all experts try it on occasion.

Dons Cinderella on NCS stage?

At Amador Valley High they're trying to write a fitting climax into a fairy-tale basketball season. And when the volume is complete, it will rest between the Dons' two bookends, Rob Yackley and Mike Hill.

A pattern emerged this year as Amador marched to its third consecutive EBAL title. When one of the bookends fell, the other braced up the stack. When both were down, however, everything in between toppled too.

So on the face of it, it seems imperative that Hill or Yackley, or preferably both, perform well in this week's North Coast Section Basketball Championships. The Dons open up facing Hayward Wednesday at Dublin High School. Tipoff is 7:30.

Talk to the players, though, and they'll tell you that no one or two people can tip the outcome for Amador. It's going to take everyone on the shelf if Amador plans to repeat its opening night NCS victory over Hayward of a year ago.

"Our whole concept is team play," says Yackley; "that's what we've relied on all year long."

"It doesn't matter so much on offense," adds Hill, "but on defense if the whole team isn't doing the job, one man can kill you."

Hill has one man in mind, the Farmers' 6-1 forward, Charley Ford. Coach Skip Mohatt hasn't passed down the word yet on who will cover Hayward's leading scorer, but chances are it will be Hill. He has taken the other team's best all season long.

Ford is averaging 18.5 points per game this year. He has won three games at the buzzer for Hayward with long jump shots. He is also a holdover from the team that fell to Amador last year in this tournament.

Yackley and Hill are two of Amador's four returning veterans. They're both averaging 15 a game and providing untold leadership to a predominately junior team.

They've been indispensable to the Dons, who were ticketed to nowhere at the start of the year, but suddenly find themselves back in a big post-season tournament.

Hill and Yackley say the value of their experience is over stated on a team where everyone is contributing. It's more than coincidental, however, that both played poorly in a three-point loss to Granada last month. It was Amador's only blemish in the last 14 games.

"We've managed to keep our bad nights separated usually," Yackley says.

"Against Dublin I couldn't hit a thing," Hill recalls, "but Rob hit everything (he finished with 32 points). Then against Foothill Rob wasn't much of a factor because we didn't go to him, but I couldn't miss."

"Nobody played well against Granada," said Yackley, echoing the fact that Amador wins and loses as a team.

Since then Amador has won three straight by lopsided margins. The Dons go into the tournament rated 10th in the East Bay Hayward is sixth.

Number one College Park is in the NCS field, and will meet El Cerrito in a first round game. Fourth-ranked St. Joseph's will face either American or Washington, while number five Berkeley meets Terra Linda.

"I was hoping we'd play College Park first," said Hill, "because we played them in summer league and they didn't impress me that much. But I'm just happy to be playing anybody in this tournament."

By reaching the NCS field the Dons figure they've defrocked a lot of seers who were predicting doom before the season ever started.

"The student body had written us off," says Yackley. "They were down on us. Throughout the year, even after we beat Livermore and Granada the first time, they still had doubts. But they're starting to come around now.

So too are the Dons.

"We're pretty hot right now," Yackley says. "From a 2-6 pre-season to a 15-7 record is a pretty good job. I'm enjoying myself more than ever. There was so much pressure last year because we had a lot of big names on the team. But right off the bat it took the pressure off us this year because we weren't expected to do anything. I like playing in tough games, but it's not so tense all the time now."

If there's pressure, Hill will feel it in his battle defensively with Ford. "It could get to me," Mike says; "but Mr. Mohatt always tells me to concentrate on my offense and that usually helps."

The Dons are taller and renowned for their defense, but Mike cautions they aren't an automatic choice.

A lot depends on how well the bookends hold up their share of the load.

Injury sprains Diane's plans

A freak accident has knocked Diane Dunbar out of the American gymnastics championships for the second straight year.

Diane sprained an ankle during an exhibition at U.C. Berkeley Sunday night and won't be able to even train properly for two weeks.

She'll definitely miss the U.S. Elite National Championships beginning Thursday in Philadelphia, first big meet leading up to the American Olympic trials in May.

The injury was a severe blow to the young Foothill High School student who had won two all-around championships in meets earlier this year, and then helped the Americans to a probable Olympic berth just last week.

It has forced her to withdraw from the Elite Nationals for the second straight year.

"The only thing this really hurts is her head," said Diane's coach Jim Gault; "because she has to miss the Nationals two years in a row. We're all sick about it and Diane is pretty unhappy. She'd been looking forward to the Nationals, and she'd hoped to do well. Anybody in a position to get a medal, or possibly win an event at that meet, would be hurt by this."

Diane was giving an exhibition Sunday during the men's U.S.-Romania dual meet to help determine qualifying nations for the Olympics. Right at the start of her floor routine she attempted a back full twist, landed wrong on the ankle, and sprained it.

The injury is severe enough that Diane won't even attempt to train until Friday or Saturday. It will be impossible for her to compete in the Nationals.

Fortunately for Diane, this weekend's big meet is not imperative for an aspiring Olympic gymnast. Qualifiers for the Olympic Trials will be selected from the U.S.A. Masters Championship Meet to be held April 9-10 in Connecticut.

That competition will include top finishers from the last two Elite National Championship. Even though Diane has missed both of those, she can enter the Masters automatically, a privilege afforded by her appearance last October with the Pan American Games team.

Nevertheless, she will miss the opportunity at a coveted title in the Nationals, and the chance for high pressure competition prior to pre-Olympic meets.

Diane placed eighth all-around last week in the women's portion of that U.S.-Romania dual meet. After compulsory events she was in line for a higher finish. But Diane stumbled on a bar mount later in the program, and fell back in the standings.

She wasn't alone, however. Many of the American and Romanian girls either stumbled or fell during the two-day competition in Tuscon.

Gault attributed their performances to the heavy burden of Olympic qualifying. Both teams were attemtping to compile high scores, because they are competing with a number of nations for six remaining Olympic gymnastics berths.

"The girls knew they had to score well," Gault said; "and they knew the pressure was on them. There were bound to be a few mistakes here and there. It was the most pressurized meet of all time. The girls were scared to death."

Despite the stumbles and bumbles, the Americans are in good shape to gain an Olympic berth. They lost the meet to Romania, but scored sufficiently well to nearly wrap up a spot among the final 12 teams competing at Montreal.

Now that the girls have secured America's right to the Olympics, they must secure individual berths on the U.S. team. That begins with the Masters meet.

BACK PAIN

Need Not Continue with Proper Care

THOUSANDS SUFFER
Each year thousands experience severe disabling back pain. Many back disorders begin as vague dull pains or aches, often noticed first thing upon arising, yet seem to disappear once you are up moving about. This primary symptom or early warning should not go unheeded. As a rule this is one of the earliest indications that trouble is developing. Perhaps these pains will not persist; however, often with the slightest of stress or strain such as coughing or sneezing, bending and twisting, arising from a chair, or attempting to lift an object, you may suddenly experience a severe agonizing pain and find that you are unable to stand erect, or as often the case, that the pain is so great that you fidget, squirm, or stretch trying your best to get in a position where the pain will decrease. After failing to get relief from self-administered methods you may realize that you will have to seek competent professional help. Modern, scientific methods of locating the exact area or areas of spinal impingements enable your chiropractor to remove the cause of your pain. It may be said that early detection means early correction.
CHIROPRACTIC RESEARCH
Studies of thousands of cases of back disorders have revealed that those under care of a competent chiropractor have enjoyed complete restoration of spinal balance following scientific chiropractic adjustments. Remember, the Doctor who knows your spine best is your CHIROPRACTOR.

Guaranteed challenge:

If you're a young person looking for some real challenge, now's the time to look into the Army. From electronics to carpentry, from cooks to combat arms, the Army today has more challenging opportunities to offer than anyone.

$361 a month to start

Army pay is better than ever. And with free meals, free lodging, and free medical and dental care, you'll be surprised how far that pay will go.

Job-training courses

Ever wonder where to get that "experience necessary" the classified ads always ask for? A good place is the Army. With hundreds of job-training courses, the Army can teach you skills you'll be glad to have later on.

Educational opportunities

Whether it's finishing high school or earning college credits, being in the Army can help you. And if you sign up for the Army's newest educational program, Project Ahead, you'll be able to start college at the same time you enlist—with the Army paying up to 75% of your tuition and fees for approved courses.

Travel opportunities

Joining the Army can mean a chance to work and live in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Korea, Panama or almost anywhere in the continental U.S.

Join now, go later

You can do just that—join now and report up to nine months later—with the Army's special Delayed Entry Program. A terrific option for high school seniors and others with unfinished business ahead of them.

First come, first serve.

To find out which opportunities are open and to have the best chance of getting the one you want, see your Army Representative now. The address and phone number are listed in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."

New Low Tar Entry Packs Taste Of Cigarettes Having 60% More Tar.

'Enriched Flavor'™ idea succeeds–increases taste of new 9 mg. tar MERIT without the usual increase in tar.

You can write today for a study conducted by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion for Philip Morris showing new MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than five current leading low tar cigarettes.

Brands having up to 60% more tar than MERIT!

The reason is 'Enriched Flavor.' An extraordinary taste find developed and perfected after years of research at our Richmond Research Center.

And it's only in MERIT. At 9 mg., lower in tar than 98% of all cigarettes sold today.

If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, tested at home.*

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

The results were conclusive.

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much —or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.
